

Privacy Policy of Halifax Camerata Singers

Halifax Camerata Singers (“Camerata”) acknowledges that it is responsible for the protection of personal information in its possession. Under the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA), Camerata is required to implement policies and procedures to govern the collection, retention, use, disclosure and disposal of personal information gained from business activities.

Generally, Camerata only collects personal information on individuals to provide customer service and notifications in relation to the provision and ticketing of musical concerts and related events. Camerata will identify the specific purposes for requiring personal information at the time it is collected and will seek the explicit consent of the individual to collect and use it only for those purposes identified.

Camerata will limit the type and amount of personal information collected to that which is necessary for the purposes as identified to the individual. In addition, Camerata will only use information collected for the purposes identified at time of collection. If Camerata wishes to use personal information in its possession for another purpose, it will only do so after obtaining consent for the new purpose.

Camerata limits the use and disclosure of personal information consistent with the consent of the individual. Camerata will not make other use or give access to third parties without consent. Camerata will strive to ensure that personal information in its possession is accurate and will allow individuals to access their information to ensure its accuracy and completeness.

Camerata takes reasonable measures to safeguard personal information in its possession against such things as loss and misuse. Camerata takes care in disposing of and destroying personal information after it is no longer needed.

Individuals can gain access to their personal information in the possession of Camerata upon written request to the Chair of the Board of Camerata (the responsible Privacy Officer). Camerata will provide access to the individual within 30 days and at no cost. Camerata will correct any erroneous information it holds at the request of the individual.

All inquiries should be directed to:

Halifax Camerata Singers – Privacy Officer
c/o Maritime Conservatory of Performing Arts
6199 Chebucto Road
Halifax, NS B3L 1K7